

A Taste of Hackney

creating a digital legacy for Ridley Road Market

Did you visit Ridley Road Market in the 1940s, 50s, 60s, 70s and/or 80s?

Can you remember when you first saw a mango or yam on the market?

Have you got any photographs you'd like to share?

If you're interested in sharing your memories of the market, its traders and produce, then this is a unique opportunity to get involved in an intergenerational oral history project.

A Taste of Hackney is a Heritage Lottery Funded project celebrating the rich history of Ridley Road Market as told by the people that have lived, worked and shopped there during the 20th century.

We are looking for past and present Hackney residents aged 50+ to take part in a variety of volunteer roles.

The project will result in a smartphone app, audio walk and exhibition on Ridley Road in Spring 2012.

Want to take part? We'd love to hear from you.
